Saffron/(Kesari) - Piety and Patriotism

White- Purity and Peace

Green -Prosperity

Chakra - Progress (24 hours - for 24 spokes)

The flag is a tricolor. All the three colors have a great significance. The three colors are at the top, saffron ("kesari") ,in the middle, white, and at the bottom, green in equal proportion. The ratio of the width of the flag is two to three. There is a navy blue wheel, ("chakra") on the white band. The wheel, ("chakra") consists of twenty-four spokes. Its design is that of the wheel which appears on the abacus of Sarnath Lion Capital of Ashoka.

The colors of the flag stand for the 4 P's : Design of the national flag was adopted by the constituent Assembly on 22 July 1947. Its use and display are regulated by a code.

Flag Code

There is a strict flag code, which was announced in the year 1950 that regulates the use and display of the national flag

1. It bars the use of the flag in advertisements or for any other commercial activity.
2. Private citizens are not allowed to fly the flag over their homes, offices or factories except on certain designated days like the Republic Day or the Independence Day.
3. There is a clear proviso in the flag code permitting putting flower petals inside the national Tricolor before it is unfurled on special occasions like Republic Day and Independence Day... the proviso permitting the use of petals was added to Section 5.9 on January 24, 1997

Health Tonic

Banta comes to Australia and goes to Woolworth's (Ubiquitous grocery store in Australia). He finds cat food at special prices. He picks a dozen cans of cat food and goes to check out.

The Manager gets suspicious. He thinks that this guy cannot have a cat and will probably feed cat food to his kids. He asks Santa to show him his cat before he could let him have cat food. Banta goes home and returns with a cat and gets to buy the cat food.

Next week Banta finds dog food at special prices. He picks a dozen cans of dog food and goes to check out. The Manager again gets suspicious. He thinks that this guy has a cat but he cannot have a dog and he will probably feed dog-food to his kids. He asks Santa to bring and show him the dog before he can let him have dog food. Banta goes home and returns with a dog. He gets to buy the dog food.

Next week Banta comes to Woolworth's with a bag. He asks the manager to put his hand in the bag. The Manager puts his hand in the bag and immediately takes it out. He shouts at Banta: "What! This is shit!" Banta calmly replies "Yes, and I want toilet paper"

Santa Singh spoke frantically into the phone, "My wife is pregnant and her contractions are only two minutes apart!" "Is this her first child?" the doctor asked. "No, you idiot!" Santa shouted. "This is her husband!"

Once a sardarji was travelling in a train, a man came and slapped him by shouting, "oye santa singh teri aisi ki taise". the man again slaps santa singh by shouting out the same words.

This goes on for at least 15 times, the sitting beside sardarji asks him as to why he(santa singh) was not slapping the man. Sardarji replied "MY NAME IS NOT SANTA SINGH!!!!!!!!!!".

Santa Singh and Banta Singh were discussing how they would like to die.

Santa said, "When I die, I want to go peacefully like my Grandfather did, in his sleep. I dont want to die screaming like some of his friends who also died at the same time."

Banta asked, "How did his friends die screaming while your grandfather died sleeping peacefully?"

Santa Singh replied, "His friends were the passengers in the car he was driving."

(In this edition of the Bulletin on the eve of the Independence Day, I did not want to mention Sardarji's in the Bulletin, but the experiences of the Sardarji were so refreshing, I could not resist sharing them with you.)
